Provident Healthcare Partners Advises Hanabusa IVF and Asian Egg Bank on its Partnership with CSG.BIO

Provident Healthcare Partners (“Provident”), a leading healthcare investment banking firm, announced it has advised Hanabusa IVF and Asian Egg Bank in their partnership with CSG.BIO. Hanabusa IVF is a premier private fertility clinic located in San Diego, specializing in advanced reproductive care, including mini-IVF, lower-stimulation treatment, and comprehensive genetic testing. Asian Egg Bank is a donor egg bank focused on helping intended parents and fertility clinics access Asian donor options.

Provident’s deal team was led by Managing Director Scott Davis and Director Jake Vesely. Nixon Peabody served as legal counsel to Hanabusa IVF and Asian Egg Bank, and Venable LLP served as legal counsel to CSG.BIO.

“We had a great experience working with Jake and the rest of the Provident team throughout our acquisition process. Despite a longer-than-expected due diligence period due to our international ownership structure, Provident remained highly engaged, providing valuable guidance and helping structure a transaction that worked for both buyer and seller. Their responsiveness and commitment made a meaningful difference in successfully completing the transaction,” commented Peter Fuzesi, CEO/COO of Asian Egg Bank and Hanabusa IVF.

“This transaction highlights the continued demand for specialized fertility platforms,” said Vesely. “Hanabusa IVF’s differentiated mini-IVF clinical model and Asian Egg Bank’s specialization in serving Asian patients creates a unique offering in the fertility market. We are pleased to have advised the team on this partnership with CSG.BIO and Corbel and look forward to following the platform’s continued growth.”
