“As CEO of a private cardiology practice, I found working with Provident Healthcare Partners throughout the sale of our practice was an exceptional experience from start to finish,” commented Connie Richards, Chief Executive Officer of FHA. “Their team demonstrated professionalism, integrity, industry expertise, and unwavering support during every phase of the transaction. I would highly recommend them to any healthcare organization considering a strategic partnership or practice transition.”

“Selling our cardiology medical practice was a complex and emotional process, but Provident guided us with confidence, transparency, and strategic insight,” stated Jeffrey H. Rosen, MD, FACC, Interventional and General Cardiologist. “They took the time to truly understand our organization, our physicians, our staff, and our long-term goals to ensure we found the right partner for the future of our practice and our patients. We sincerely appreciate their dedication and expertise and would highly recommend them to any healthcare organization.”
