Provident Healthcare Partners Advises Garden State Urology in Joining Astera Urology

Provident Healthcare Partners (“Provident”), a leading healthcare investment banking firm, announced it has advised Garden State Urology (“GSU”) in joining Astera Urology, a division of Astera Healthcare, and partner practice of OneOncology. GSU is a leading New Jersey-based urology group with nearly two decades of experience providing care to adult and pediatric patients.

Provident’s deal team was led by Managing Directors Kevin Palamara and Dustin Thompson. BakerHostetler served as legal counsel to GSU.

“We are excited to be joining a high-quality practice committed to clinical excellence like Astera Healthcare,” said David Taylor, MD, FACS, President of Garden State Urology. “I would also like to extend my sincere thanks to the Provident team for their hard work, dedication, and thoughtful guidance throughout this process. Their support was instrumental in helping us navigate this important milestone.” David Chaikin, MD, Vice-President of Garden State Urology, added “I see tremendous opportunity for providing enhanced and expanded patient services with this strategic alliance.”

“Congratulations to the physicians and entire team at Garden State Urology on this exciting next chapter. Drs. Taylor and Chaikin provided outstanding leadership throughout the process, positioning the practice for continued growth while remaining focused on delivering exceptional patient care. Astera was the ideal partner for GSU given its shared commitment to clinical excellence, physician-led care, and the opportunity to expand services and strengthen coordination across urology and oncology. We are proud to have advised Garden State Urology on this important milestone and look forward to seeing the practice continue to thrive,” commented Palamara.

About Garden State Urology

Garden State Urology is a leading provider of urologic care in New Jersey.
